

Changing Educational Development: Whose Values? Whose Agendas? Whose Future?

Annual SEDA Fellowships Masterclass and Dinner

Monday 17th November 2008

Facilitator: Bernard Moss

Professor of Social Work Education and Spirituality and Director: Centre for Spirituality and Health at University of Staffordshire. Senior Fellow, Higher Education Academy and National Teaching Fellow, Higher Education Academy <http://www.bernardmoss.org.uk/>

Bernard will talk about values in CPD which will enable participants to reflect on the SEDA values and their role in CPD. Colleagues might also like to take the opportunity of exploring how CPD can lead to a successful application for a Senior Fellowship from the HEA.

This session forms part of the annual cycle of Continuing Professional Development on the SEDA Fellowships Scheme. The event is free for Fellowship holders and registrants and £40 for others. Those interested in undertaking the SEDA Fellowships or one of SEDA's introductory courses or professional qualifications in supporting or leading educational charge are also welcome to attend.

Masterclass: 18.00 – 19.30

Dinner: 19.30

Booking

Delegates may wish to attend the masterclass as a stand alone event or prior to attending the 13th Annual SEDA Conference. Click here to book online. Alternatively click here to download a PDF of the registration form.