

Title: Rethink, reimagine, and redesign teaching, learning, and assessment: Lessons learned and moving forward from remote academic experience @ University of Limerick

Presenter: Dylan Scanlon and Niamh Kennedy

Outline

The focus of the presentation will be three lessons learned over the past year with regards to teaching, learning, and assessment, and three aligned suggestions in how we can move forward with these lessons learned. While reflecting on these lessons learned, our intention is to encourage the higher education community to rethink, reimagine, and redesign teaching, learning, and assessment, and therefore the overall student learning experience.
